Dedication

Miss Ruth A. Milan

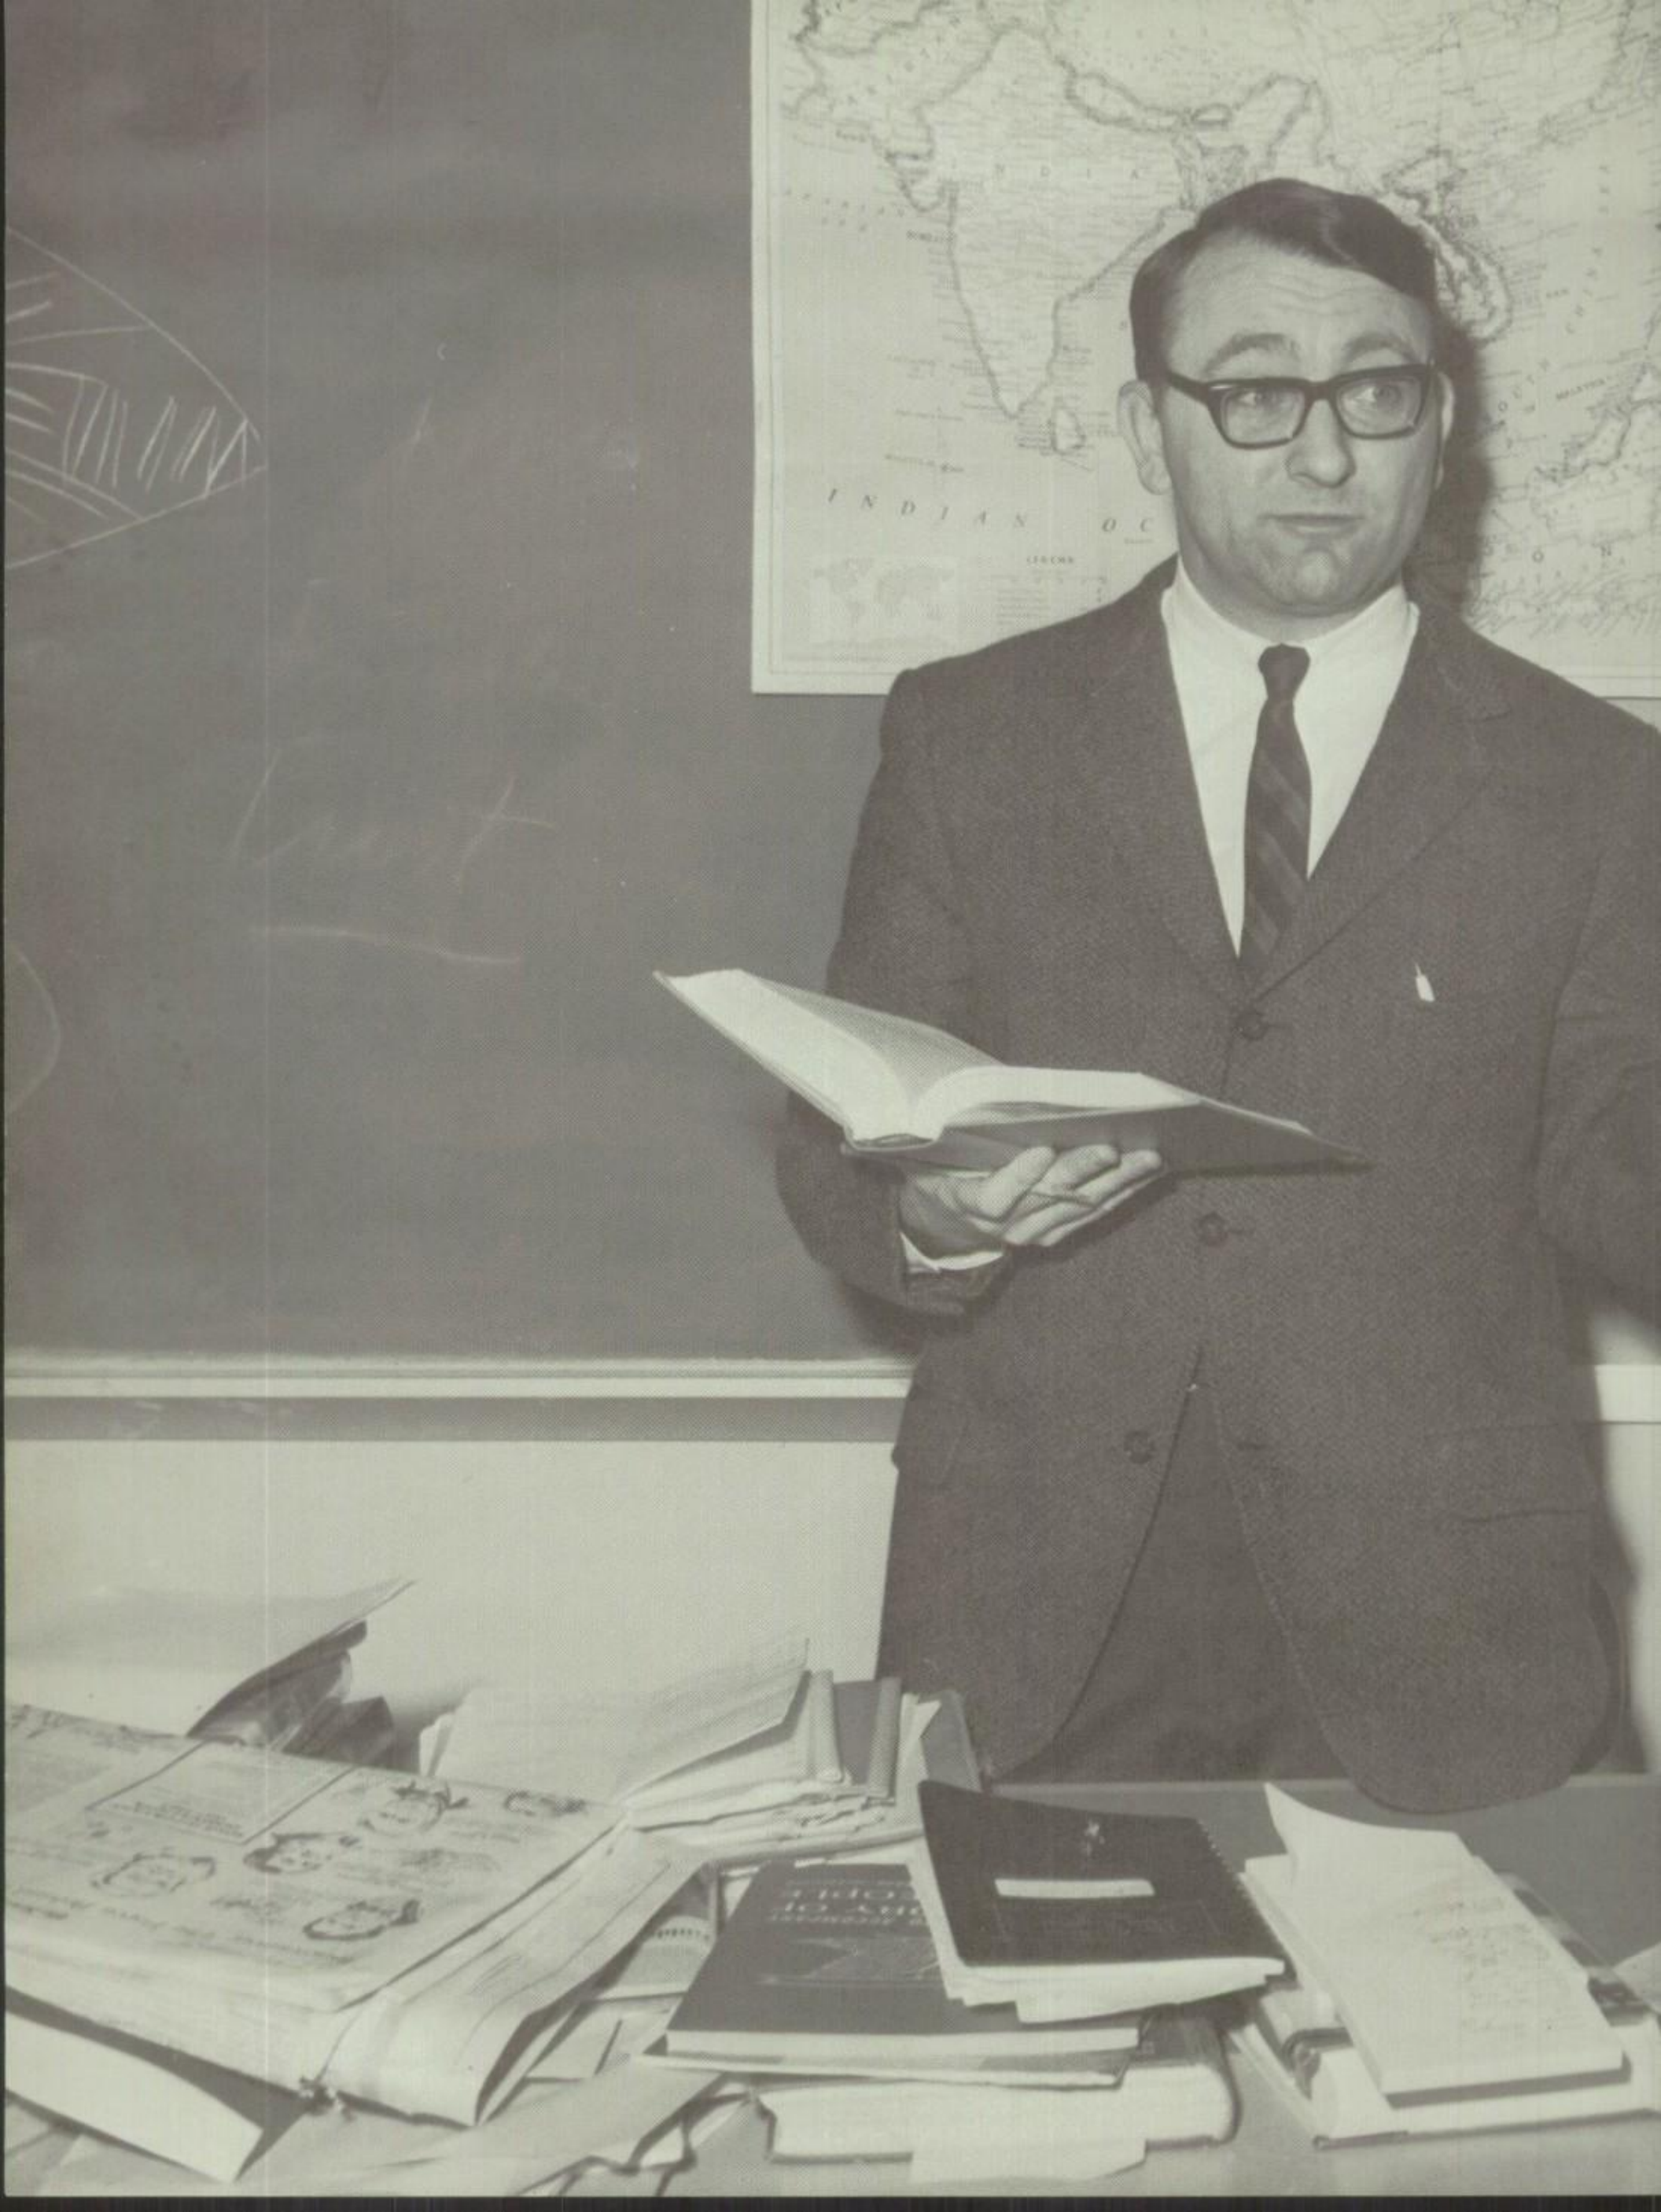

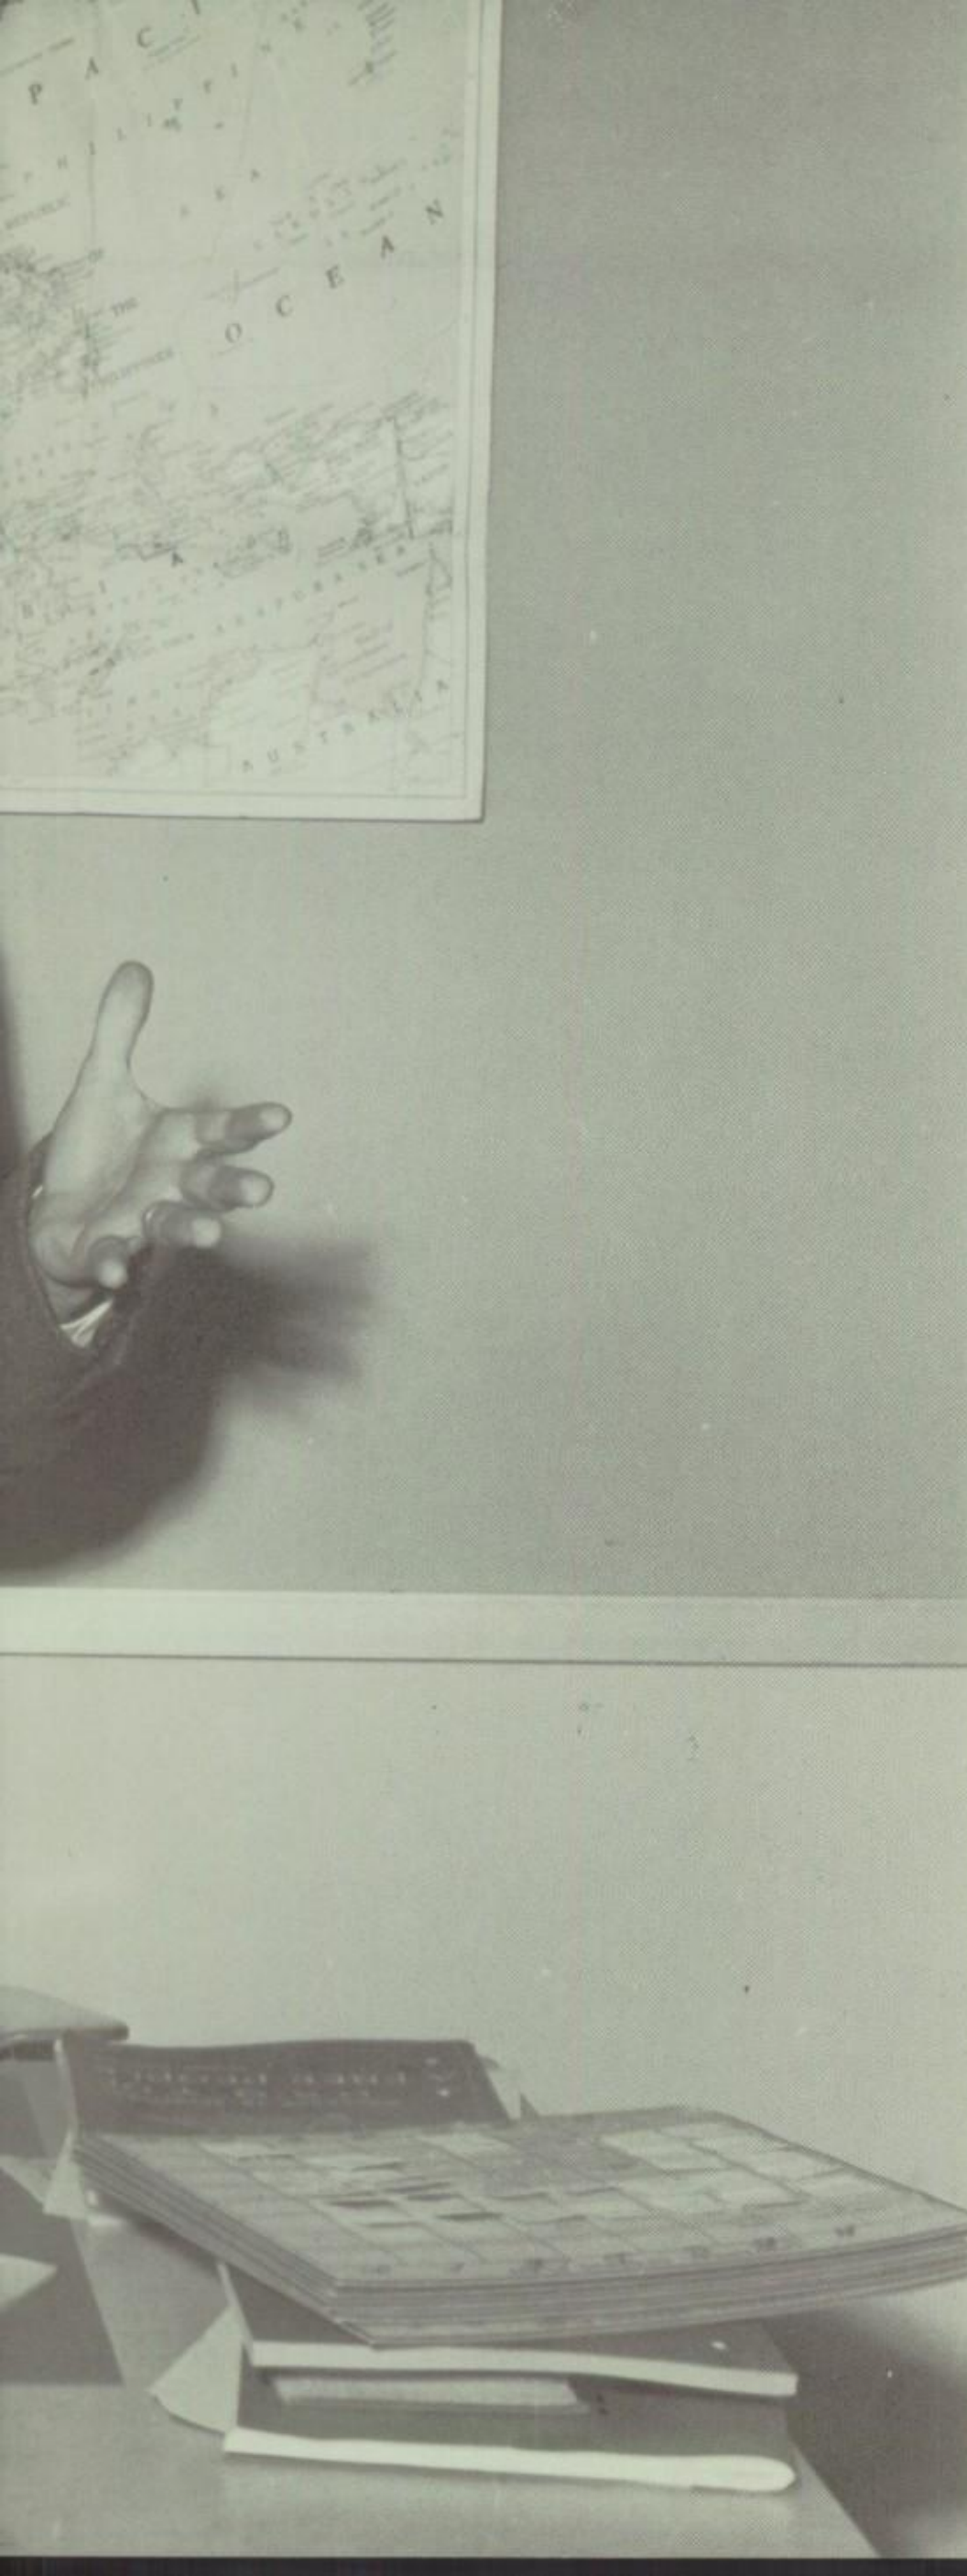

Long a devoted French teacher and currently Head of the Language Department for the Nashua schools, Miss Milan is an individual whom we admire greatly for her personal strength and ability. She holds an A.B. from the University of New Hampshire and M.A. from Boston University.

Miss Milan demands a great deal from her students—an A in French is a true distinction. She encourages each person to develop self-discipline through consistent hard work. Patient, understanding, exacting—she is a dynamic individual who has shown us the necessity of planned effort and conscientious study. Her close friends recognize her great strength in the face of personal responsibility and her warmth and human understanding in private life. All those whom she has taught during her many years at Nashua High will remember her as a capable and effective teacher. Her quiet but powerful enthusiasm and her classroom rapport make French language and culture an interesting study. A pleasant, lively person in class and out, gracious and polite, modern and versatile, she is a stimulating teacher whom we will not forget.

Few students recognize the constant effort necessary to keep the school running smoothly. The principals are vital to the educational system.

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department is an important link between the administration, post secondary schools, and the individual student at Nashua High. The counselors provide, process, and explain the information necessary for helping a student to plan both his high school course of study and his plans for college or a career. Equally important, they are always available to any student who has a problem that requires the advice of an experienced adult.

Organizations

National Honor Society

This year's senior members voted to conduct the semiannual induction ceremony before a special school-day assembly. They hoped, through exposure to the entire school, to acquaint the student body with the club's goals—the encouragement of personal achievement through scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

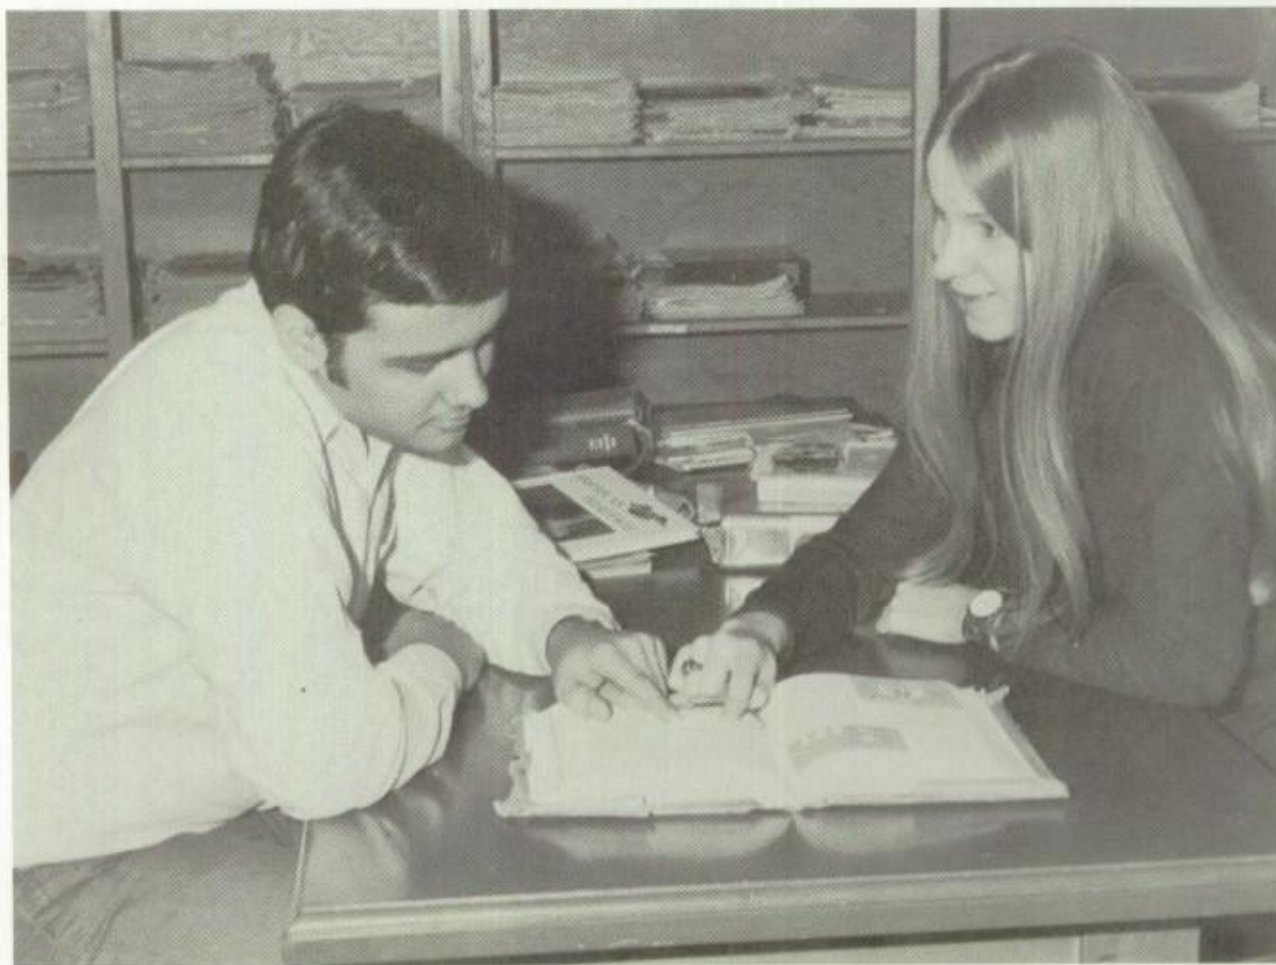

In the fall, officers Bill Esson and Jean Barker represented the Society at the New Hampshire Honor Societies' assembly in Laconia.

Society members are called upon to tutor students who want help and to operate the school elevator between classes. In addition, each member leads the school in morning exercises for a week and presents an inspirational quotation of his own choosing.

To each of the 39 Senior members the Society is a source of pride and an acknowledgement of fine effort during his years at Nashua High.

OFFICERS—Bill Esson, President; Jean Barker, Vice-President; Rob Lind, Treasurer; Denise Gagnon, Secretary.

French Honor Society

Everyone should acknowledge outstanding achievement and at Nashua High the French Honor Society is the French teachers' way of recognizing their best students. High ability and constant effort are necessary to meet the Society's standards. Those who succeed are among NHS' finest.

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY—Ida Dionne; Jon Winer; Elizabeth Fischer; Celeste Pinet; absent, Diane St. Onge.

Tusitala

The Tusitala is your yearbook. In it we've tried to capture the mood and feeling of Nashua High; through the camera's lens we've probed every corner. Long hours of class, games, assemblies, dances, and your individual experiences—all these may fade in your memories. It is our hope that the glimpses in this book, each but a fragment of the whole, will help you remember what happened here.

Opinions have differed; as all things, the final product is a compromise. We realize that the power of pictures and words is limited. But this is only an outline; the whole meaning of your school life must be an extension of your own minds. We like to think we've done our best.

To the surprise of everyone, a page takes shape.

How to capture the atmosphere of Nashua High?

Tattler

The 68th year of the Tattler was a year of innovation. Under the able direction of Morgan Hollis the staff adopted a new advertising and layout policy. By eliminating block ads and devoting more of the magazine to literary and artistic creations of the students, the editors along with advisers sought to make the magazine more readable.

The written contributions of the students showed an awareness of the problems and questions which we face in our modern society. The Tattler's many columns continued to supply information and editorial opinions to the student body. But without the work of the advertising and business staffs, the magazine could not have been produced.

The Tattler has been an interesting and enjoyable part of our high school years.

Poetry editor Charlie Martone and editor-in-chief Morgan Hollis select the best.

Tattler Art Staff: Pam White, Ken Bishop, Joanne Avard, Bob Menard, and Julie Lessard.

Members of the advertising staff: Jim Dunne, Phil Laflamme, Stella Briand, and Mary Amelio.

Band and Glee Club

BAND OFFICERS—Richard Ralph, President; Morgan Hollis, Treasurer; Janice Nadeau, Vice-President; David Noel, Secretary.

During second period outdoor practice, at football games, in parades and at every assembly the band has continued its reputation as our most active organization. Director Stephen Norris once again combined over 70 individual musicians into a well-tuned musical machine. The band members rehearsed daily and have performed several times at concerts.

The majorettes and flag-twirlers worked with the band during football and parade seasons this year. Jan Nadeau captained the majorettes, who added an important feminine dimension to the marching band. Recently organized by Debi Graham, the flag-twirlers gave football games a new touch of color.

The lively beat of marching music will always remind us of our days at Nashua High.

GLEE CLUB OFFICERS—Carol Sweeney, Vice-President; Linda Annis, President; William Stahlberger, Treasurer; Marilyn Duncan, Secretary.

Mr. Norris also directs the efforts of Nashua High's glee club. The group performed at the Christmas assembly and sang for the Nashaway Women's Club and the Daughters of the American Revolution. Fund raising activities were conducted throughout the year for the year-end concert.

Don Bagwell, Treasurer; Jim Stinchfield, President; Bill Chang, Vice-President; Bobby Dearborn, Secretary.

Pep Club

Hi-dee-hey, hi-dee-ho. The loud and emotional leadership of Jim Stinchfield made this year's Pep Club go. From the effigy-burning of Dover at the opening of the football season to the spectacular bonfire-rally before the final Portsmouth basketball tragedy, the Pep Club represented the best of Nashua High spirit. The officers along with the cheerleaders worked continuously to encourage the 400 members to support their teams.

Before the final game with Gardner, the Pep Club sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance—for many it was the high point of the football season. Cindy Gegas was crowned Homecoming Queen before an audience of appreciative students and alumni.

Our hopes of victory soon to go up in smoke.

OFFICERS—Jeralyn Hall, President; Jim Dunne, Vice-President; Tom Richardson, Treasurer; Marilyn Duncan, Corresponding Secretary; Donna Easter, Secretary.

Tim Malette, Rickie Lee Means, and Bruce Jennings rehearse an emotional scene from Crossroads.

Dramatics Club

The Dramatics Club is an emotional outlet. It is a small group bonded by common interest and natural ability. But it is more than this.

It is The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden.

It is Of Mice and Men.

It is Crossroads.

Under the enthusiastic direction of Mrs. Jo Ann Sawyer this newly-organized club promoted interest in and advanced understanding of the dramatic arts.

Members attended You're a Good Man Charley Brown, in Boston and also saw contemporary films presented at local theaters by the College Club. At frequent meetings members performed dramatic skits and readings.

The opportunity for expression through acting filled a void that previously existed at Nashua High.

OFFICERS—John Burns, Treasurer; Rickie Lee Means, Secretary; Jon Winer, President; Joan Sawyer, Vice-President.

Cercle Francais

The Cercle Français is new at NHS. In an effort to establish club procedure and goals several organizational meetings were held. In the spirit of the club theme, the exploration of French culture, all effort was directed toward a year end trip to the French Consulate and Boston Museums.

German Club

Realizing the value of national affiliation, this year's German Club joined the National Federation of German Clubs. The Federation provided films on German life and culture which were shown at meetings after school. Also copies of American German Review a contemporary bi-lingual magazine which discusses current German culture, were distributed.

Interested members had the opportunity to attend movies at St. Anselm's College in Manchester sponsored by the state Goethe Society. Food sales in the cafeteria helped finance the Club's annual trip to Boston museums and a German restaurant.

OFFICERS—Dave Jackson, Secretary-Treasurer; Bill Esson, Vice-President; Geoff Taylor, President.

Spanish Club

The Aqui y Allé, a Spanish newspaper, was an exciting new outlet for the creative genius of ambitious Spanish Club members this year. Featuring poems, essays, and comic strips in Spanish written by students, it was published and distributed regularly. Perhaps it will establish a trend among language clubs.

During January, Mr. Carlos Cardosa of Rivier College spoke on Cuba and Freedom, a topic of vital current interest, in one of the most significant club activities. On the lighter side, Rickie Lee Means performed a Flamenco dance, helping to familiarize members with some of the finer aspects of Spanish and Latin American culture.

OFFICERS—Bob Sheffield, President; Ken Miller, Treasurer; Eileen Warrington, Secretary; absent was Bill Marshall, Vice-President.

OFFICERS—Elizabeth Fischer, Secretary; Nancy Floras, Vice-President; Ed Milliken, President; Lisa Moronski, Treasurer.

Latin Club

We owe much of our culture to the ancient civilizations of Greece and Rome. The Latin Club tries to make students more aware of our link with the past.

Guest speaker Rabbi Bela Fischer discussed with the group his recent trip to Israel and showed movies he'd taken there.

The club traveled to Boston to visit the Roman displays at the Museum of Fine Arts. In June a Roman Banquet was held and the new officers were installed.

Creative Writing Club

OFFICERS—Elizabeth Fischer, President; Anita Brest, Secretary; Joanna Ajdukiewicz, Vice-President; Absent, Debby Girouard, Treasurer.

"And now I am lost somewhere between the colorful brightness of start and the total blackness of finish."

and then there was a meeting and an inspiration and all the members came in to see what was happening and where it was happening. it was an interlude—a gentle molding of thoughts and skills into a quiet message of now.

and they met in contests to expand their minds and searched for themselves through their own writings and the timeworn masters of the art. and they explored new channels to see what there was in it all. they wrote the clandestine; they went to boston and saw plays that showed that there was something out there and that other people were thinking, too. but most of all they looked inside of all that there is and projected on what there will be.

Creations . . .

Political Science Club

In January, the Political Science Club was fortunate in having Spencer Oliver, president of the Young Democrats of America, speak on the current national political scene. But the interests of the group did not stop there. At a local reception a delegation of four members personally discussed political views with Democratic contender for the presidency Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

The tempo of 1968 was one of unrest across the nation, and the political fervor of Nashua High students was anything but lacking.

Jacqueline Levesque, Secretary; Maureen Molloy, Vice-President; Eric Dollinger, President; James Mehron, Treasurer.

Chemistry Club

Chemistry seems to be the stumbling block of high school seniors. The myriads of equations and the mysteries of the laboratory have always baffled students. Nevertheless, September found seniors faithfully signing up for membership in droves and consequently made the NHS Chemistry Club one of the school's largest organizations.

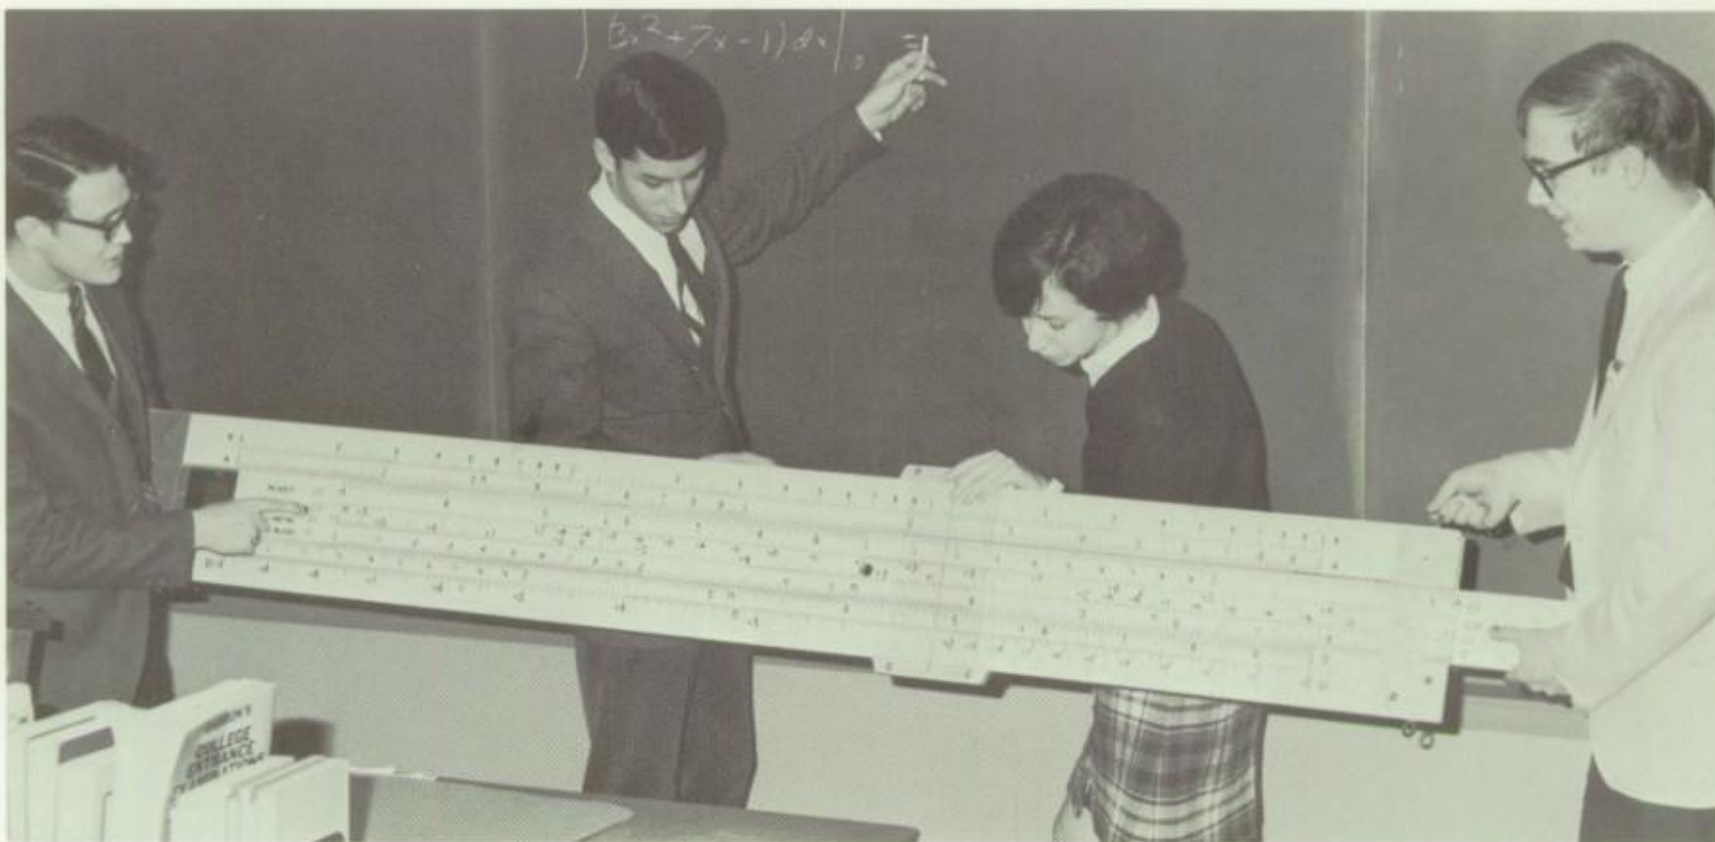

The Chem. Club, advised by Mr. Marco Scheer and Mr. Peter Testa, had a major advantage in the diversity of interests among its members. Activities ranging from a trip to the MIT Open House to a viewing of the workings of an analytical spectrometer at the local Kamenskie Company were bound to appeal to different segments of the Club membership. Visiting lecturers also spoke before the members: Mr. Holmes of Sanders Associates discussed oceanography and Professor Amel from UNH lectured on aspects of physical chemistry.

A year-end trip to Hampton Beach rounded out the 1967-1968 calendar.

Mr. Alan Silber of the N. Kamenskie Co. explains the operation of an analytical spectrometer to club members.

OFFICERS—Cheryl Kendig, Secretary; Dave Shaw, Vice-President; Rob Lind, President; Doreen Sullivan, Treasurer.

OFFICERS—John Desjardins, Vice-President; Charlie Martone, President; Barbara Silverstein, Secretary-Treasurer; Gerry Tolman, Program Chairman.

Math Club

Truly intellectual in spirit, the membership of the Nashua High Math Club is small but loyal. In an effort to increase and broaden their understanding of applied mathematics, the Club conducts activities of real significance. Field trips, a math quiz bowl competition, a trip to the MIT Open House, in conjunction with the Chemistry Club, and visiting speakers, including Mr. Kudzma from Lowell Tech., are among the mind-expanding projects which so greatly stimulated these students. The club leadership was active investigating other opportunities for helping members recognize the great reliance of our technological society on mathematical tools and the significance of math in the lives of each of us.

Fund raising activities allowed the Club to give a modest scholarship to a deserving student at graduation.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America at NHS is a group of ambitious girls hoping to improve their personal understanding and ability through diverse and interesting activities. All students taking home economics are eligible and the membership is large.

At this year's initiation the club was fortunate to have Rosaria Arcardiez from British Columbia, Canada, who gave members interesting insight on life in her home.

The club, providing a significant service and having some fun in the process, planned and served refreshments for the annual Christmas Ball. During the year they conducted fund-raising activities including selling printed stationery with Nashua High letterhead and boxes of assorted candy. A party with refreshments and games for some of the underprivileged children of Nashua was held.

F. H. A. members, while enjoying their activities, gain a little better understanding of what lies ahead.

Press Club

The happenings at Nashua High would be even more mysterious if it weren't for the work of the Press Club. Each week two members factually report the activities and events of various school organizations to the Nashua Telegraph. The administration, department heads, and club advisers provide this information.

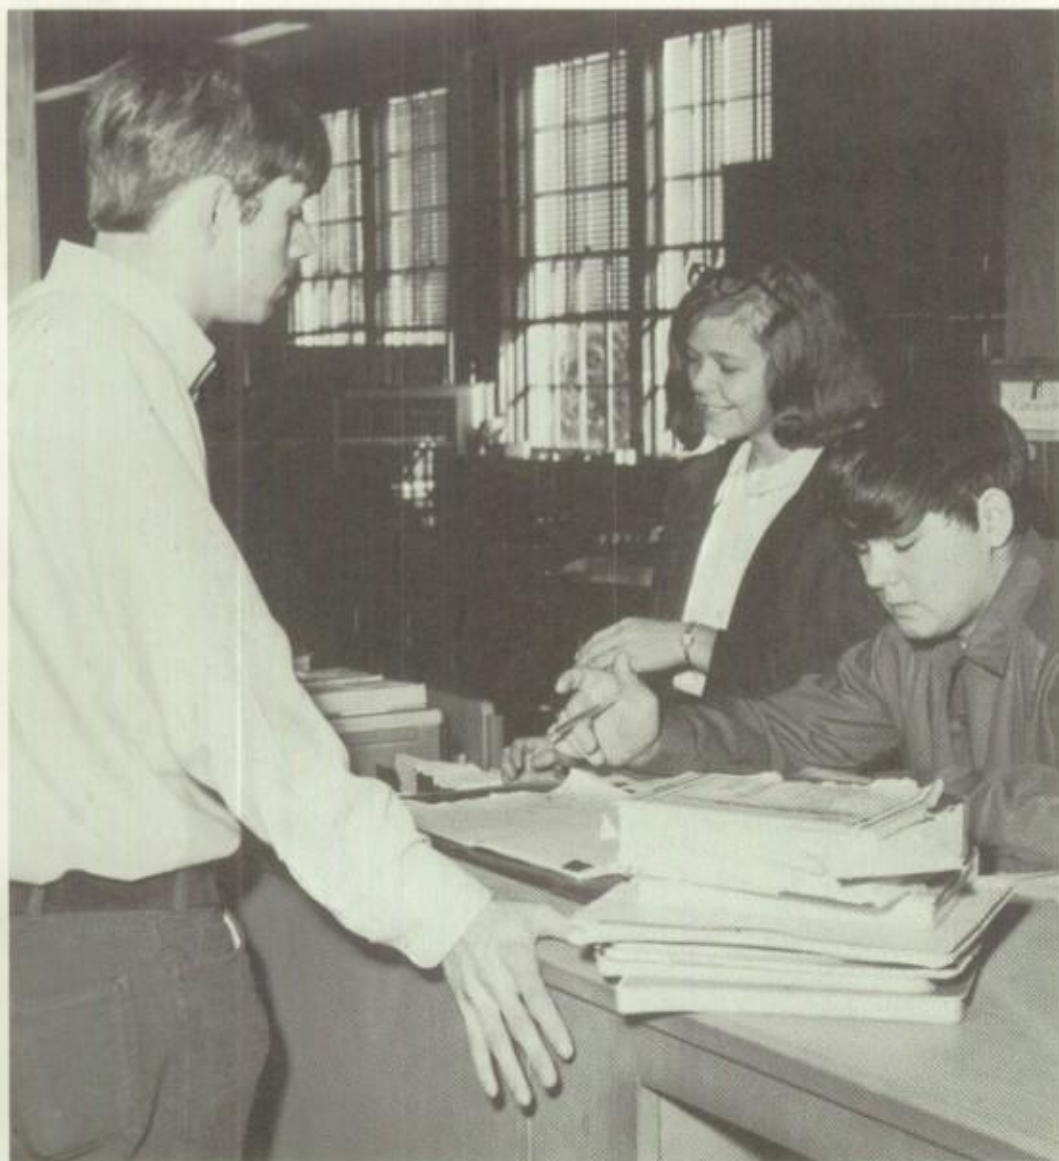

Nashua High School News is a weekly feature which links the interests of the general public and NHS.

Sue Connors looks over the news with miss Bonnie Phelps, adviser.

Marcia Hall and Karon Stanley prepare a weekly submission.

Library Aides

These volunteer workers sacrifice free periods while making themselves useful in the library. They process books and magazines, shelve returned materials, and do the many jobs that would be unnecessarily time-consuming for our librarian, Mrs. Leavitt. Their help in finding research materials is greatly appreciated by students working on source themes. These students make an invaluable contribution to school life.

Office Aides

These assistants do the leg-work for the administration and office personnel. In spite of the many advantages of our new intercom system, there are still errands that can be done only by walking around the school. Thus, the office aides will continue to be necessary for the smooth operation of school administration.

SENIOR OFFICE AIDES—Bobby Dearborn and Maureen Molloy.

GIRL FRIDAY CLUB—Kathy Delude, Elaine Robbins, Jacqueline Levesque, Virginia Hannigan.

Girl Friday Club

In any organization such as NHS an enormous amount of typing and rewriting must be done. To free our faculty and administration for more important tasks members of the Girl Friday Club use their skills during sixth periods to do much of this manual work.

Organized only this year these girls have already proved valuable to the school operation.

Sports

Cheerleaders

This year the cheerleaders were the backbone of Nashua High school spirit. Lively, new cheering routines and an individual cheering style added excitement and color to the football and basketball seasons. In moments of dismay, when the opposition seemed overpowering, the girls added a vital spark of encouragement.

The emotion-packed thrill of a touchdown or a tying basket was always an opportunity to spur the team to greater efforts.

Joyous in victory, reassuring in defeat, the cheerleaders worked enthusiastically to keep spirits up when the action slowed.

Standing: Nancy Hayward, Kathy Burns, Regina Tyler, Linda McCormack, Louise St. Hilaire, Patricia LaSalle, Elizabeth Dulac, Patricia Roy, Ann Boyle, Kathy Dobens. Kneeling: Co-captains Cathy Papadimitriou, Maureen Marquis.

Football

The Panthers opened the season with two spectacular shutout victories. The defense was airtight. Then a cruel 32-0 defeat at the hands of the Lowell monster-men shattered our hopes. The magic dissolved.

Injuries took a great toll. Even more disheartening were games lost when crucial touchdowns were canceled by Nashua violations.

There were heart-breakers; a two-point conversion snatched a victory against Fitchburg from the Panthers and Peabody beat us with a 99-yard touchdown run in the last minute of play.

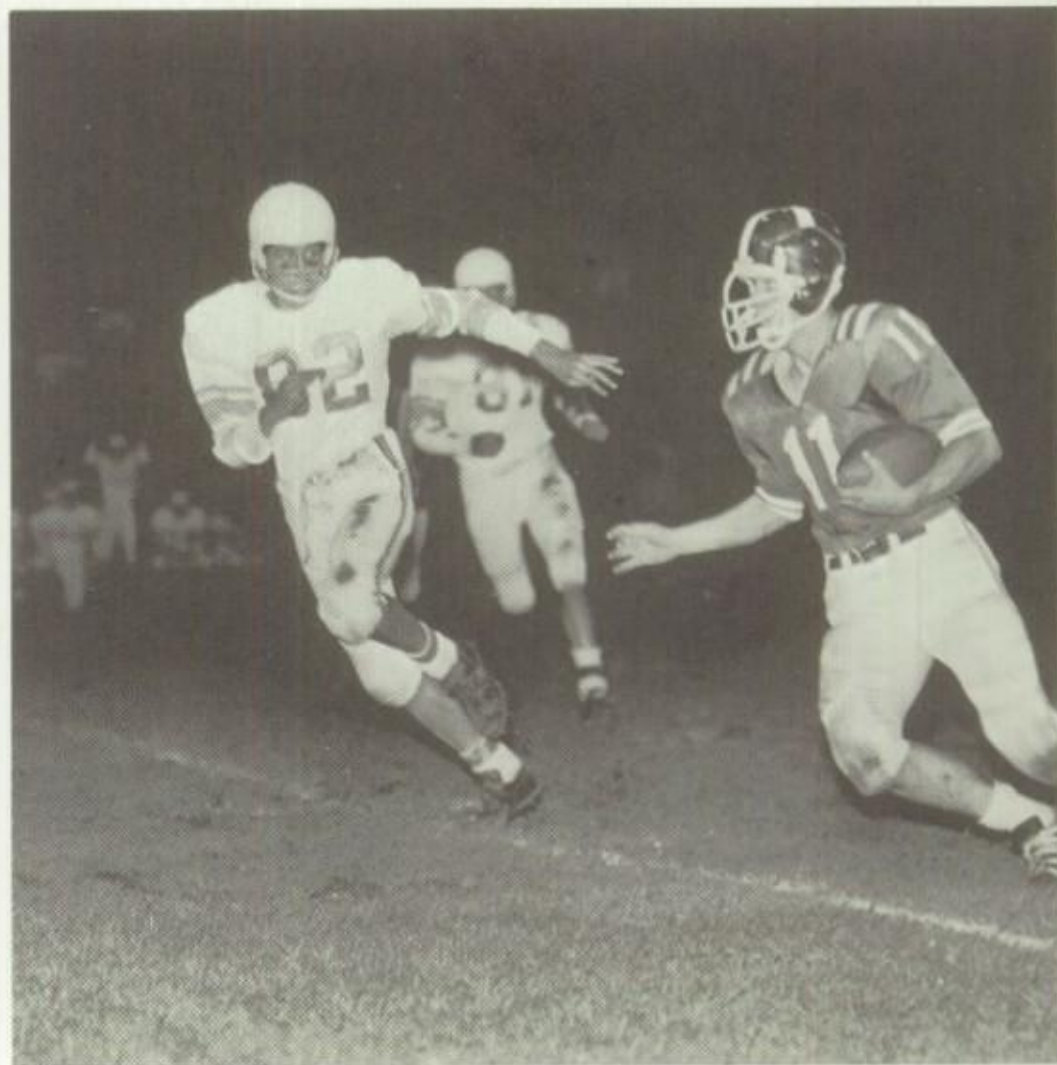

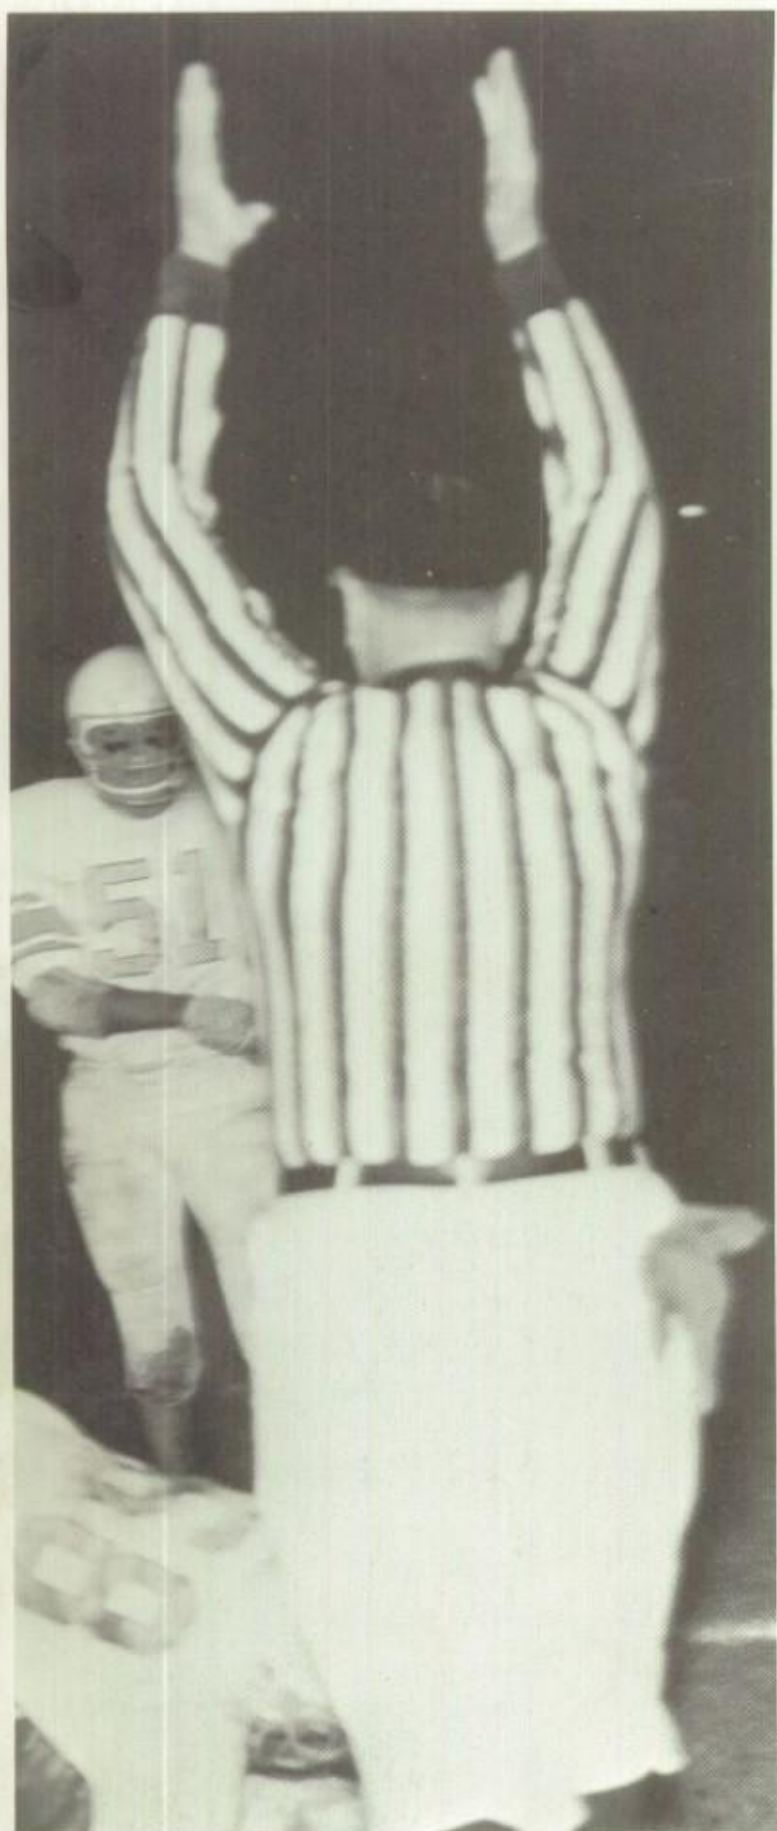

The final Panther record was the product of great effort, minor mistakes, disheartening injuries, and score-strangling penalties. Many underclassmen started this year and next season should be better.

Starting eleven at the season's end. Kneeling: Co-captain Robert Boudreau; Al Hodge; Russ Blais; Co-captain Mike Leclerc; Al Poliquin; Mike Kopka; Wayne Harrison; Standing: Robert Kilbane; Peter Gray; Dave Foran; John Demers.

John Demers, wearing no. 11, was by far the most consistently outstanding player. He averaged over 100 yards per game during the final five games. His achievements were recognized when he received the annual Buddy Harvey Memorial Award. Dave Foran, a sophomore, and Demers were awarded honorable mentions in the High School All American competition.

Cross Country

The N.H.S. Cross Country team faced rough competition this year. Steve Longfellow, a swift junior, was the major factor in the team's victories.

The first encounter was a tri-meet with Winnacunnet and Exeter Academy. Longfellow captured first but was followed by a flock of Winnacunnet Warriors. Jim Proko, John Coughlin, Bob Daniels, and Steve Urban finished farther back, and Nashua managed only a second. The following week, Billerica High defeated us soundly. Later, in our best showing, Nashua defeated Laconia 40-21, as Longfellow was followed by Urban in third, Proko in fourth, and Coughlin in sixth. Then a crushing defeat by Portsmouth ended the Panthers' victories.

In the state meet, Concord took first place and Keene second. Nashua's only bright spot was a fourteenth by Longfellow.

Steve Longfellow.

Ski Team

This year saw the revival of the NHS Ski Team. The 1968 skiers faced some difficulty in getting organized. A shortage of equipment hindered their performances.

Janice Nadeau, Pete Clark and Bob Oullette turned in strong records but this was not enough to topple the well-established competition from the north. The skiers did not manage a victory.

In the state meet the talented Purple skiers finally reached their full potential. A second in cross country and a fourth in jumping put Nashua in fourth place in a field of thirteen teams.

Basketball

As the season opened, the destiny of the 1968 team seemed uncertain. With no returning starters and little height, Coach Tony Marandos' task was cut out for him. He was equal to the challenge, however; excellent teamwork and a high-scoring offense enabled the Panthers to finish with a winning 11-9 record.

Nashua started the season by taking third in the Christmas Tournament at St. Anselm's College in Manchester. NHS beat Dover, the team which later claimed the state championship. As the regular season began, the team looked unexpectedly strong.

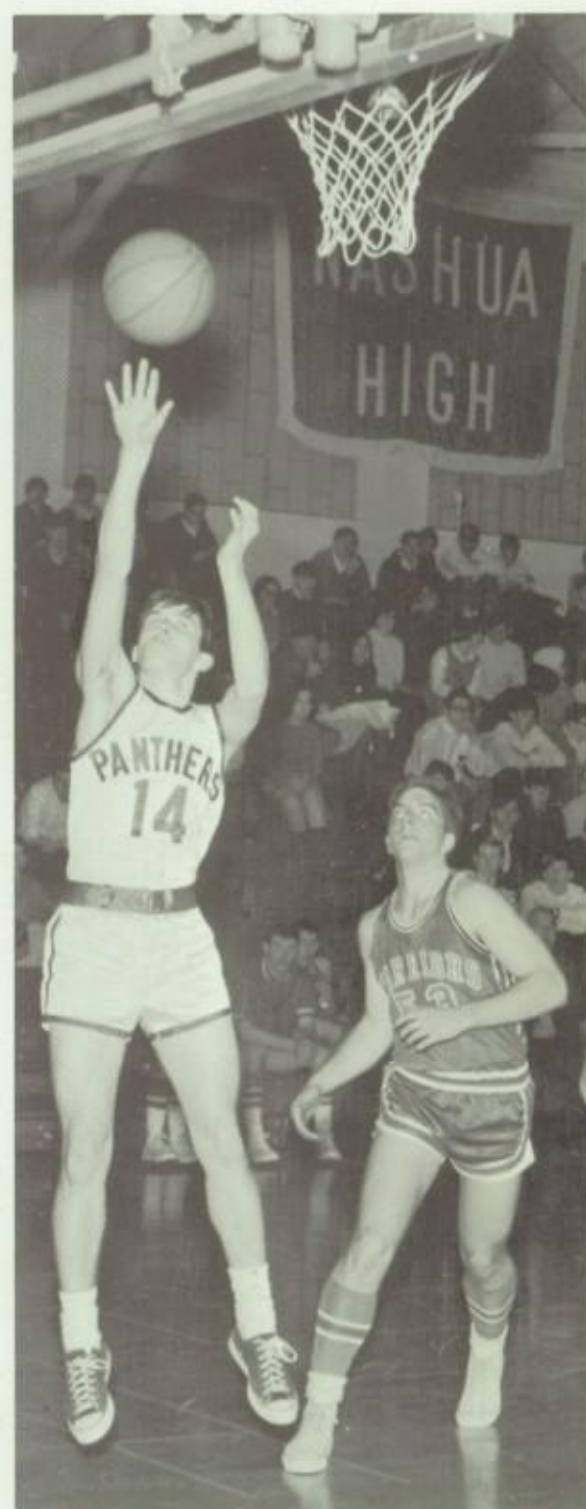

Great shooting by captain Gary Lewis and rebounding by Kevin Fair helped the Panthers to leap to their best position of the season with a 10-4 record. Adam Gureckis and Mike Blais made many points and rebounds, while Louie Richards worked in the backcourt.

Then everything seemed to go wrong. The games were exciting but many were dismaying as the competition began to capitalize on the team's weaknesses. Frequent fouls took a heavy toll.

Nashua completed the season in ninth place in the New Hampshire class L.

Hockey

Coach Marineau's Purple Blades had another fine season in 1968. In defending their championship the team faced improved competition throughout New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

After a strong 3-0 opening the icemen found the going rougher. A final-game loss to Manchester West placed the team third in the league with a 9-7-4 record.

Consistently outstanding defensive effort by Tom Monahan and goalie Bruce Huslander as well as the scoring power of Wayne Harrison and Dave Durocher were crucial to the Blades' strength. Kevin Parzych, Al Hodge, and Phil Geer were also vital to the team's success.

At the end of the season Monahan received the M. V. P. award and Parzych was named most improved player. Harrison was recognized as high scorer.

Jim Neville practices his speciality.

Winter Track

This year coach Fran Tate produced one of the greatest teams in New Hampshire track history. His talented runners won their ninth straight winter track title with an undefeated, untied season. The Panthers breezed through the schedule without contest. Every meet saw the strength of the team grow, and at the annual state meet the Purple romped over all competition. Jim Neville easily broke the existing record with a shot put of over 53 feet. Star Pete Hoagland broke a long-established record with a blazing 32.4 seconds in the 300 yard dash; he also won the high jump competition and placed third in the shot put. He capped his accomplishments with a second in the high hurdles behind teammate Don Tyler, long an outstanding competitor for the team. Steve Urban finished a close second to a Keene runner in the 600 yard run and both men broke the previous record. John Demers took second in the shot put and placed in the hurdles and fifty yard dash. Jim Floras contributed points in the hurdles and shot put. Steve Longfellow, John Centeio, Steve Dichard, and Don Bagwell also scored. Nashua's relay team of Dussault, Floras, Longfellow, and Urban sped to a record time of 2:34.5.

Pete Hoagland, MVP.

In a glorious finish, Nashua won the tri-state meet with Vermont and Maine by over 30 points. Jim Neville broke his own shot put record again.

Pete Hoagland was selected most outstanding athlete of the season.

Girls' Field Hockey

Fall 1967 was a season of triumph. Natural ability and frequent rigorous practice under the direction of Coach Carol Gilmore paid off.

Pauline Albert captained the mighty varsity girls to a 3-1-1 record.

Junior Varsity with co-captains Anne Bucknam and Judy Barker went undefeated.

Girls' Field Hockey is one of our strongest sports, and we proudly recognize these fine athletes.

Girls' Basketball

A successful girls' basketball team has become a tradition at N.H.S. Miss Sally Guerette's Purple Lassies won all but one game during their regular season of play, as they overwhelmed almost all of their competition. Strength in the forecourt with Nancy Floras's rebounding, coupled with Pauline Albert's and Ginny Corriveau's scoring ability, made this year's team a powerful contender. Excellent defense by Rose Skirkey and Louise Zapenas enabled the girls to dominate the games.

Junior Nancy Floras was the season's high scorer with Senior Pauline Albert second.

Activities

Erasmus—With Freckles

Nancy Gates as Cissy Leaf

Given a principal investment of \$2233.16 compounded daily at $5\frac{1}{4}\%$ interest, how much money would accumulate during 17 months, 2 weeks, and four days?

If the reader can't solve this instantly, he need merely ask Tim Malette, NHS' own computer for a weekend. As the mathematical whiz-kid, Erasmus, Tim was faced with a trying dilemma. Erasmus' father, ably played by Skip Prior, was a poet of high ideals who simply refused to allow his son to be exploited by the technological age. The plot was complicated further by a scoop-hungry press as well as Erasmus' unrequited love for Brigitte Bardot.

The student actors handled their parts effectively. Neither Maureen Hargreaves' geraniums nor Bruce Jennings' mysterious appearances as a spy will soon be forgotten. Adding a contemporary note to the play was The Other Half, a student pop group, who played while many of our senior girls danced to the heavy beat.

For many, this was their first contact with the workings of the stage; but the tireless direction of Mrs. Sawyer made the final production of Erasmus—with Freckles a polished performance. The work on sets, costumes, and makeup; the hours of rehearsal; and the tension of opening night will undoubtedly be remembered by those who gave their time and effort to the play.

"Wet paint on my stern deck?"

"You've been awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature: a gold medal and 60,000 tax-free dollars."

Awaiting the curtain.

Finale.

William Alexander Esson

Valedictorian

Dr. Martin Luther King had a dream for America, and I have mine for our generation. I see the significant advances in technology the older generation has made, and I dream of the moral and ethical developments our generation must make if it is to survive with this technology. I see the great machines of war, and I dream of the lasting peace that the world so desperately needs in order to survive. I have my hope in the youth of our generation.

My spirit rises when I think of the Rhodes Scholars, Peace Corps volunteers, and youth workers in the current political campaign. But then I think of the vast majority of apathetic college students concerned primarily with themselves. I think of the many student demonstrations around the world, and I am ashamed of that irresponsible mob behavior. It is then that I feel that our generation is no better than any other. This mediocrity in such times frightens me.

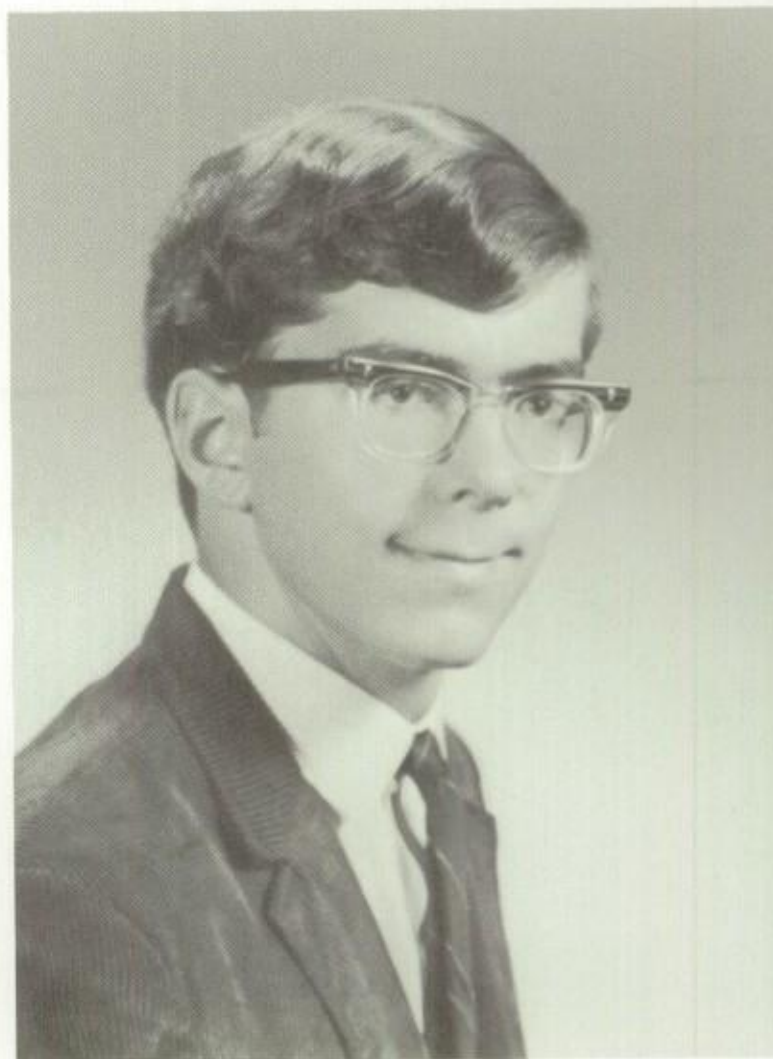

However, I still have hope. I have too much confidence in myself and this class to give up that hope. There is a great deal of potential here among us and in similar classes around the nation. All we must do is utilize it, and we will be remembered as leaders of a great renaissance of the human spirit. Will we achieve that dream?

Orator

The Declaration of the Rights of Man says, in essence, that men should create their own laws and then follow them. We live in a free land. Americans have more individual independence than any other people. This inherited independence carries with it tremendous responsibilities. Our rights must be used wisely or they may be taken away. To preserve our freedom we must preserve our country.

We, the youth of today, want to change our country. We desire even more freedom for our people. We also strive for peace. Our methods, however, have been wrong. Rebellious youths accomplish nothing. We must remember that our generation is part of society. We are a searching generation, but we have been without guidance or control. Our basic problem is that we throw society aside before we have an adequate replacement. We must act with maturity.

I have great hopes for our world. America is still strong. Today's youth can instill a new emotion in our country. Great things are expected of this generation. We must remember that the laws don't have to be broken, they can be changed. We can accomplish much if we revise society, not destroy it.

The New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools accredits schools and colleges in the six New England states. Membership in one of the six regional accrediting associations in the United States indicates that the school or college has been carefully evaluated and found to meet standards agreed upon by qualified educators. Colleges support the efforts of public school and community officials to have their secondary school meet the standards of membership.

Nashua High School is an accredited member of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, having been admitted to membership in 1962. Nashua High School has met the evaluation requirements of the Commission on Public Secondary Schools.
